

Futures Edge

Welcome to The Futures Edge Live Trading Room!

The Futures Edge, hosted by Ninjacators' trained Educational Analysts, operates from 9 AM to 11 AM EST, Monday through Friday, and remains closed during normal holidays. This webinar-based experience is designed to share education, research, and trading ideas. Attendees will witness instructors researching trading conditions, discussing strategies, executing trades, and reviewing outcomes.

To maintain a productive and respectful environment, all participants are expected to adhere to the following house rules:

- 1.) Stay On Topic: Ensure all communications in the chat and Q&A boxes are relevant to the current discussion and maintain a positive tone.
- 2.) No Solicitation: Soliciting for outside products or services from other organizations is strictly prohibited within the trading room.
- 3.) Respect for All: Mutual respect must be upheld at all times. Disrespect towards other participants or hosts will not be tolerated.
- 4.) Language Guidelines: Use only appropriate language in the room. Offensive or inappropriate language is not allowed; please keep all discussions to a PG-13 level.
- 5.) Reporting Issues: Should you experience any issues or require assistance not covered during the live session, please contact us at edge@ninjacators.com. We are here to help resolve any concerns promptly.
- 6.) Respect Trading Decisions: Respect for trading decisions, whether made by the instructor or other attendees, is crucial.
- 7.) Pressure to trade : Pressuring the presenters to place particular trades or derogatory remarks about trading decisions are not permitted.

Consequences for Rule Violations:

A first infraction will result in a verbal and written warning. Continued disregard for these rules will lead to removal from the current session and a permanent ban from future sessions. These rules are in place to ensure that every participant can benefit from a focused and respectful trading environment. Thank you for observing these guidelines and for being part of our trading community.
